CAMP TO REWARD

Junior Board of Commerce Offers Vacations for

Boys in Drive. With trips to camp offered as prizes to the team doing the best job of cleaning up unsightly property, the first annual clean-up campaign sponsored by the local Junior Board of Commerce begins today with inspection of more than 400 lots in 20 sections of the city. The inspection is being conducted by campaign captains and members of the Junior Board.

The board, working in conjunction with Boy Scouts, boys' clubs, playground and community center units and other volunteer workers, is aiming in the two-week drive to encourage the cleaning of lots and alleys for the beautification of the city. The clean-up teams will be chosen from the groups working with

A survey of the condition of vacant lots in the District was completed yesterday as the final step preparatory to launching the cam-

Claude F. Browning, sanitary engineer and director of mosquito control of the Government, will direct the clean-up activities of the Departments of Health and Sanitation in connection with the cleaning of alleys.

The Executive Committee for the campaign includes J. W. Brabner-Smith, chairman; Lyle F. O'Rourke, president of the Junior Board; Robert Lee O'Brien, jr., and Hugh Reilly,

WOMAN WHO BEAT CHILD WILL ENTER HOSPITAL

Mrs. Theresa Cronin Freed After Serving Year Sentence on Assault Charge.

A long fight for the release of Mrs. Theresa Cronin, sentenced last June 18 to a year in jail and a fine of $500. with the alternative of another year, for an assault on a 2-year-old child left in her custody, was ended late yesterday when she was released in custody of her mother and sister for admission to the Philadelphia General Hospital.

Mrs. Cronin was convicted before Judge Walter J. Casey for an assault on William Van Ness, jr., son of Mrs. Ruby Van Ness, 1500 D street N.E. Mrs. Cronin had been employed to care for the child.

Shortly after her conviction it was discovered that Mrs. Cronin was suffering from a disease which, her family was told, would result in insanity unless given a special treatment. Her counsel, nevertheless, waged a successful fight to save her from commitment when she was given a lunacy hearing in Police Court last Novem-

Yesterday she completed the first year of her sentence, including time off for good behavior, and her relatives supplied documentary evidence to show that arrangements have been made to admit her to the Philadelphia institution, where she will secure the
